

Blue Springs Nature Preserve

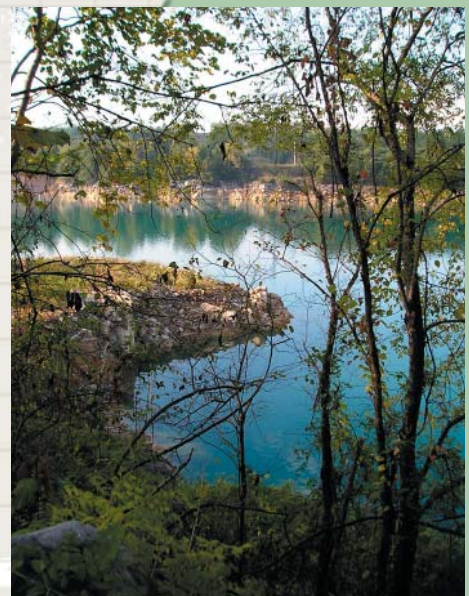

Ragland, Alabama

portfolio

The Blue Springs Nature Preserve will be a place where building and site are integrated, with no distinction between the land and the built environment. With the help of Overland Partners Architects, 4Site was able to develop a plan for the 600 acre preserve that maintains the environmental legacy of the site, while still taking into account the visitor experience, the mission statement of the developer and the abundant natural resources.

Commissioned by National Cement, this project has set in motion an unprecedented effort to return the land to an appropriate natural state, and furthermore insure that it is managed to reflect its many irreplaceable environmental messages.
