

The City of Center Point Master Plan

Center Point, Alabama

portfolio

The City of Center Point, Alabama is a young community steeped in local history but striving for a sense of community. Grappling with issues of the 60's outward migration from Birmingham and a built-out landscape, city officials struggle to maintain their current population and quality of life.

4Site and the Regional Planning Commission of Greater Birmingham were commissioned by the City of Center Point to implement a comprehensive planning and design initiative. Conscious of the ecological considerations and the necessity for a safe, multi-modal transportation network, 4Site was able to arrive at these solutions. The plan established a new town center, the redevelopment of several commercial brownfield sites, the redesign of Reed Harvey Park and connectivity to the Five Mile Creek Greenway.
