

Reed Harvey Park

Center Point, Alabama

portfolio

After careful analysis, the Center Point Comprehensive Plan provides future opportunities for many features that make city living more enjoyable: pedestrian and bicycle-friendly connections, recreational and gathering areas, and open green space. The historical Reed Harvey Park, with its proposed walking trails connecting to street sidewalks, is the link that will connect Civitan Park to the north with the Land Trust site to the south. This site, which is connected to the Five Mile Creek Greenway, has been proposed as a recreational park of trails and open spaces.
